Amy Katz's Workshops

Amy Katz has been part of the world of seed beads since 1993 as a student, teacher and designer. She has always admired and loved high-end jewelry. Several years ago when she began designing her own beadwork pieces, Amy made the decision to give them a fine jewelry look using seed beads, crystals, pearls and other fine materials. Using imagination, this vision has come to life as her signature style. Amy is currently teaching locally and nationally including the Bead & Button Show. She is also the co-author of Beading Across America. (Kalmbach publishing)

Friday, October 21, 2011 6 pm - 9 pm

Both classes will be held at the Colts Neck Library

Wonder Wheel (Intermediate Level)

This beautiful pendant is truly a wonder to create. Using various peyote techniques, make a dimensional circular pendant and encrust it with crystals and bugle beads to get a sparkling look. String a beautiful chain to match the pendant for that perfect touch. This class requires knowledge of even count tubular peyote stitch to take this class.

Saturday, October 22, 2011 9 am - 4 pm (w/lunch break)

Athena's Muse: (intermediate/advanced Level) should be familiar with tubular peyote. Create a beautiful necklace fit for a Greek goddess. Using square stitch, peyote stitch and right angle weave techniques create a handsome link chain. Decorate the chain with dazzling circles, triangles and charms created with Swarovski Elements. Attach the charms to the piece for an elegant look that sparkles!
